Dear Cheryl,

Thank you for being a significant contributor during the month of May at our faculty development workshops sponsored by IDeL (Instructional Design for eLearning).

We are grateful for your participation and the expertise that you devoted during your presentations.

Design & Organization Tips from Blackboard Exemplary Course Winners (May 18, 2015)

6 Practical Examples that Faculty can implement in their Blackboard Courses to Benefit all Learners and Improve Accessibility (May 19, 2015)

We are very appreciative that you were willing to share your knowledge with our future online/hybrid GVSU instructors. Your presentations were rewarding for everyone involved and the samples and resources that you provided in our workshops will provide long lasting models to our GVSU faculty.

Thank you being an excellent role model and always being will to share your expertise with others. Your department should be proud of everything you have done to effectively integrate technology to enhance teaching and learning.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Kenward, Instructional Designer
